

Meet Pastor U

“I will do what I have been commanded to do.”

For nearly three decades, Pastor U has been teaching people in his small Vietnamese village about the love of Jesus. He has been interrogated by authorities many times, threatened at gunpoint, and even jailed.

Through the years, he has ventured into surrounding villages and regions to share the gospel. Officials began to report back to his hometown authorities about his activities, and he was accosted by local police.

“If you don’t stop this teaching, you will be beaten and taken to jail,” they told him.

Pastor U responded, “You have been commanded by your superiors to stop me from preaching in other villages. I have been commanded by my God to share His love wherever I can. You do what you have been commanded to do, I will do what I have been commanded to do, and everything will be okay.”

Surprised and baffled, the police laughed at the “crazy old man” and—this time—they left.

Pastor U continues to lead a small church in his hometown and to share the good news of the gospel wherever he goes. Would you take a moment today to pray for him, for his wife, and for his children?

Outreach To Asia Nationals has been training and resourcing persecuted Asian pastors in restricted countries since 1986. Learn how you can make a difference in the lives of servants like Pastor U.

For the safety of our Asian pastors, pictures are representations only.

Outreach To Asia Nationals has been training and resourcing persecuted Asian pastors in restricted countries since 1986.

Learn how you can make a difference in the lives of servants like Pastor U.
Tour our website and discover all the countries where you can partner with OTAN.
Click the “Give” tab to donate securely today.