

HOW TO PRAY FOR THE CHURCH IN CHINA

God loves His church in China. As Christians, we're called to pray for other believers. As you pray, remember that God is sovereign over all the world, over every nation and every leader.

Our Chinese brothers and sisters in Christ need encouragement from the Word and from each other to persevere in continuing to meet together despite regulations. Pray that their hearts would be filled with hope.

Continuous restrictions are causing house churches to break into many small groups. Pastors and leaders cannot find enough skilled leaders for these groups. Pray that more leaders who are trained in biblical theology and in discipleship will be raised up.

Pray for the Holy Spirit to strengthen and embolden believers to enthusiastically share the gospel with family and friends.

Financial prosperity in Chinese churches can bring division and misdirected security. Pray that churches would guard their hearts against this.

Pray that young Chinese men and women would respond to the call of the Lord, to salvation and to biblical studies so they can both know Him and serve Him.

The burden of providing for family members can be overwhelming in Chinese society. Pray that the young people who receive training would find a balance between daily needs (family, job, finances) and ministry by trusting in God's provision.

Most Chinese pastors and church leaders hold down several jobs to make ends meet. Pray that church members would understand and fully participate in financially supporting their pastors and leaders

As persecution continues to increase, pray for safety and perseverance for these brothers and sisters in Christ.
